

ARMSA – LIVING TOGETHER PROJECT CONSTITUTIONAL HILL

3 JUNE 2006

The Living Together Project is currently running a programme at Constitutional Hill. They are educating \pm 70 school children on the various important Constitutional Court Decisions. Other education initiatives include leadership training etc. ARMSA's President was invited to address them on 3 June 2006 on the well known Van Rooyen decision (to which ARMSA was a party to). The address was well received and a meaningful debate was held on the importance of judicial independence. ARMSA was invited to participate in this project and will do so much more extensively once the programme continues after the July school holidays.
